Do we throw things away too easily?

In the news this week

Many of us are increasingly reusing, repairing, and upcycling items, instead of throwing them away and replacing with new ones, according to experts. Upcycling shop, the Repair Café in Wales believes, that because of the cost of living crisis, people are making the most of what they already have. Throwaway culture has been the norm since the 1950s but now appears to be declining.

Things to talk about at home ...

- > Do you think repair cafés are a good idea?
- > If there were a repair café near you, would you use it? What types of things might you take?
- > Do you have any repairing skills? Is it something you would like to learn?

This Week's Useful Vocabulary

A new lease of life – An increase in the period for which something can be used. Rather than throwing old things away, they can be given a new lease of life for us or others!

Aside from – Except for. Aside from repairing things, can you think of any other benefits that might come from a repair café?

Crisis – A time of great disagreement, difficulty, confusion, or suffering. Upcycling shop, the Repair Café in Wales, believes that because of the cost of living crisis, people are making the most of what they already have.

Culture – The way of life of a group of people at a particular time. Throwaway culture has been the norm since the 1950's but now appears to be declining.

Repair – Mend or fix something that is damaged, broken, or not working correctly to a good condition or make it work again. Do you know how to repair or fix things when they break?

Upcycling – Changing, decorating or repairing an item to make something more fashionable or valuable. Many of us are increasingly reusing, repairing, and upcycling items.
