In the news this week

The Welsh Football Association has announced that the national men and women's football teams will be paid equally moving forward. Wales joins a list of other countries including Australia, USA, Norway, and Brazil, who pay their men and women football players the same amount to play for their country's national team. In order to reach the deal, the Wales men's senior team agreed to a 25% pay cut, thus enabling a 25% rise for the women's team, which now brings them both equal on pay.

Things to talk about at home...

- > Share your thoughts with someone at home on the news that the Welsh women's football team are going to be paid the same as the men's. Do you both feel the same way?
- > Do you feel the men's team should have to take a pay cut? If not, how else do you think the extra money could be funded?

This Week's Useful Vocabulary

Committed – Pledged or promised to be involved in a plan of action. England, the Republic of Ireland, USA, Australia, Brazil, and Norway are all among those who have committed to paying their men and women football players the same amount to play for their country's team.

Enabling – Making something possible. In order to reach the deal, the Wales men's senior team agreed to a 25% pay cut, thus enabling a 25% rise for the women's team, which now brings them both equal on pay.

Generation – All the people born and living at about the same time. We hope that this will allow future generations of boys and girls to see that there is equality across Welsh international football, which is important for society as a whole.

Sacrifice – Giving up something valued for the sake of something else regarded as more important or worthy. Representing your country in sport is a huge achievement – and one that is likely to have taken huge effort and sacrifice.

Society – The community of people living in a particular country or region and having shared customs, laws, and organisations. Receiving fair pay for both men and women is a key part in creating a fair society.
