In the news this week

A study from the University of Valencia, in Spain, found that print reading could boost skills by six to eight times more than digital reading, for example, on an e-reader or tablet. The study, published in the Review of Educational Research, also found that while there is a negative relationship between digital reading and comprehension for primary school pupils, the relationship turns positive for secondary school-aged pupils.

Things to talk about at home ...

- Do you enjoy reading? If so, what type of books?
- Talk to someone at home about the types of books they like to read.
- Do you think you would prefer to read printed books, or books on an e-reader?
- Do you think that one day, e-readers will replace books?

Please note any interesting thoughts or comments

This weeks useful vocabulary

Audiobook – A recorded reading of a book that you can listen to. In addition to traditional books and e-books, some people like to listen to audiobooks.

Boost – Help or encourage something to increase or improve. A study from the University of Valencia, in Spain, found that print reading could boost skills by six to eight times more than digital reading.

Device – A machine, such as a phone or computer, that can be used to connect to the internet. One device can hold hundreds or, in some cases, thousands of texts.

Distracted – Not concentrating on something because you are thinking about something else. The study also found that younger children can be more distracted on e-readers by things like notifications, messages, or other applications.

E-reader – A device with a screen that allows you to read things such as books, magazines and newspapers in an electronic form. Have you ever used an e-reader?

Traditional – Existing for a long time without changing. Do you prefer to read a traditional physical copy of a book or read on screen?

Athletics - Headlands

On Tuesday evening, Mr Norman and Mrs Christlow took 20 children to Headlands School to compete in a sports hall athletics competition.

The children took part in many different activities such as, speed bounce, chest passes, relays, obstacle courses and long jump. Burlington competed against Martongate and Bay primary school and did really well.

The behaviour of the children was brilliant which helped contribute to an excellent evening of competing.

Panathlon - Hull

On Wednesday an enthusiastic group of Year 5 children went to Hollywood Bowl in Hull to take part in the Humber Finals of Primary Panathlon Ten Pin Bowling. This included the winners from all the events from North Lincolnshire, Hull, East Lincolnshire and East Riding to compete for the title of Humber Champions. Our team did fantastic and came 4th overall out of 14 teams. The childrens' high fives, cheering and roars and determined strides down the alley were a joy to watch. Well done Burlington!
