Picture News

In the news this week

Stef Reid MBE, a former Paralympian medal-winner who represented Canada and Great Britain, is asking Nike and other sportswear companies to start selling individual trainers to single-leg amputees. The request comes after noticing the company using mannequins with running blades to promote its products in shops. Stef has said that by refusing to sell single shoes, Nike is not living up to its values of diversity and inclusion. In a video viewed over 3 million times, Reid said she was thrilled to be shown photos of mannequins in Nike stores with running blades wearing a single shoe.

Things to talk about at home ...

- Do you believe all sportswear companies should sell single shoes to single-leg amputees? Ask others at home to share their thoughts.
- Can you think of any shops or businesses that take action to celebrate diversity?

This weeks useful vocabulary

Amputee – Someone who has had all or part of an arm or a leg removed. Stef Reid... is asking Nike and other sportswear companies to start selling individual trainers to single-leg amputees.

Biochemistry – The scientific study of the chemistry of living things. Stef has a degree in biochemistry.

Diversity – Including many different types of things or people in something. Stef has said that by refusing to sell single shoes, Nike is not living up to its values of diversity and inclusion.

Mannequin – A life-sized model of a person used to display clothes in a shop window. Reid said she was thrilled to be shown photos of mannequins in Nike stores with running blades wearing a single shoe.

Potential – Someone's ability to develop, achieve, or succeed. We all have a responsibility to ensure everyone is included and has opportunities to reach their potential.

Request – Politely or officially asking for something. The request comes after noticing the company using mannequins with running blades to promote its products in shops.

Cricket

On Tuesday, 10 children walked to Bridlington CYP to participate in a cricket competition.

The children played pairs cricket which meant each player bowled one over. Each player then batted with a partner for 2 overs.

Burlington won every game that they played in and will move into the next round. All of the players improved as the day went on as they became more familiar with the rules.

Information about the next round will be given to parents in a few weeks time.

Well done to all involved.

Picture News Ambassadors

Every class has used their democratic vote to decide who will be their Picture News Ambassador. These children will lead the Picture News sessions in their classes, every week. This opportunity will help to increase the children's confidence, resilience and leadership skills. Mrs Mawer has delivered a training session for the children and will be working closely with them to continue to develop their skills as the term progresses.
